We believe that the true and final judgment will be that the river is the heritage of all the people, and as such it has all the order to the hydraulic miners, "Halt!" It has the authority to forbid the deposit of foreign matter in its navigable waters much so as it has the power to forbid and prevent the planting of torpedoes in its bays and rivers or harbors, or the building of barriers to the passage of boats, or the obstruction of the national highway, or the stoppage of a Government train.

The Call, continuing, adds: The Sacramento Record-Union desires to inaugurate a movement to awaken the Government to the real dauger to inland navigation in California. That is all that there is in the RECORD-Union's claim that the Government's arm | matter. shall be extended as a new injunction to stop the flood of mining debris.

Congress must soon, howver, be asked to furnish his department with the further means for prosecuting this important national work.

Hydraulic miners are building slickens barriers in our river more obstructive than tone bridges across it, worse than torpedoplanting in its bed, more dangerous than would be solid stone dams thrown across it. The Government has as much the oower, and should exercise it, to order the one removed as the other; to forbid the work upon one as upon another.

A great deal has been said about re straining dams for the vast quantities of debris below the mines and already part way down the tributaries, and which, as the Call has said, will come down. When the Government adopts plans for the reformation of the river they will call at some time for the stoppage of these deposits. where they are, but never in a manner to warrant new additions to them by hydraulic mining. Its order and action regarding such works will be precisely such as if they related to sand bars already in the river.

No one can be so silly as to suppose if the Federal dredgers, for instance, were engaged in breaking up one of these, or in clearing a channel, that the Government would stand inactive or permit A or B or C to haul to the spot and dump in new supplies of sand as fast as the workmen "scooped," as the Call terms it, the old nes out.

THE Marysville Appeal, which has the capacity to be fair and is not, probably, de sirous of willfully misrepresenting, says referring to the debate between the Call and the RECORD-UNION: "The RECORD Union, in its article, urges Congress to take the rivers in hand and build restraining dams, but the Call objects unless min-A GOVERNMENT INJUNCTION ASKED ing is first stopped." but one suit in particular is the clothing topic of the day. We wish every parent who has a lad of nine or a dozen years to provide for could see them. We selected the cloth for these suits out of some hundred and fifty samples, and then 13 had it woven in the mills expressly to our order. You'll find it a neat check-a color that won't show dirt-all-wool-firm and substantial. If we were so careful about the material, it is reasonable to suppose we were also careful about the way the suits were made up-so nothing need be said on that score. Complete suits, $6 50.
